VOL. LIV — OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY EVENING, AUGUST 8, 1901 — NO. 174

SELBY ROBBERY INSPIRED BY A NOVELIST'S FANCY.

FRANK NORRIS PICTURED OUT EXACTLY HOW THE SMELTING WORKS COULD BE SUCCESSFULLY PLUNDERED IN HIS STORY ENTITLED "BLIX," PUBLISHED TWO YEARS AGO.

BY J. E. BAKER.

"Blix and gold bars."

How fancy creates fact is aptly illustrated by the stupendous robbery of the Selby Smelting Works. That daring crime also proves that while fact may not be stranger than fiction, fiction is certainly not stranger than fact.

That bold and ingenious act of spoliation would seem like a wild and improbable romance if told in the pages of a novel, but its accomplishment is a bit of sensational realism that makes the work of fiction appear like weak tea in comparison.

"Absurd!" one would exclaim when reading the story of such a fancied exploit.

"Impossible!" would exclaim another."Such things are only done in yellow literature. They are mere freaks of the imagination—wild plays of fancy to give a melodramatic interest to stories dealing with crime."

But the doubting Thomases would all be wrong. The novelist would be describing nothing absurd, nothing improbable, nothing impossible. His genius would not only conceive daring criminal exploits, but would work out the plan of operations and throw an illuminating light on the methods of criminals.

The annals of fiction fail to disclose a stranger or more horrible crime than that of Durrant's. Even Poe's grewsome fancy failed to depict anything so ghastly and repulsive.

But the imagination of a novelist has forestalled the plunder of the Selby Smelting Works. He told the story in fiction two years before it happened.

Frank Norris related in his novel "Blix" a plot to rob the works. "Blix" was published in 1899, two years ago. In studying the methods of daring criminals he looked about for places where they could be put into practical operation. He examined the conditions at the Selby Smelting Works, and saw there the opportunity for some Napoleon of crime. He showed the way, but the managers took no warning.

And some criminal of nerve and genius has turned the trick. Fancy has become fact, apparently wildly improbable fiction has become sober realism. The gold is gone—taken exactly in the way that Norris imagined it could be done.

Evidently Norris' book furnished the inspiration of the crime. The thief must be a reader of books, and with a more ardent conception of what could be done, seized upon the idea presented.

Doubtless he surveyed the ground, as Norris did, for the purpose of telling a good story, and finding the conditions propitious and the plan feasible, carried out the project.

Oddly enough, the writer who originated the adventurous scheme and the burglar who carried it into effect were actuated by the same motive—desire for gain.

In picturing how successful thieves perpetrated daring robberies, Norris undoubtedly was desirous of achieving literary fame, but his chief object was to make money. It was an honest way of making money, but it led an ambitious thief straight into the strong vault of the Selby Smelting Works. He, too, wanted to make money, but he eliminated from his method the honesty of the author who gave him the inspiration for his scheme of plunder.

"Blix" is a fanciful tale. It contains so many incidents which appear improbable to the prosaic mind that the reader is apt to regard it as decidedly freakish.

One of the most improbable—apparently—is the plan outlined for robbing the smelting works. Nevertheless that plan is now seen to have been as practical as sawing wood. It was carried out without a hitch, and the thieves have got off with something like $300,000 in gold bars while the sheriffs and detectives are following a three-days-old trail across the water with blood hounds.

Stage melodrama never presented anything more broadly comic—showing that every noted event, no matter how serious, has its humorous side. Norris' fictitious captain has got away with the swag and probably is little disturbed by the baying of blood hounds on his damp and pepper strewn trail.

"Two or three slick boys, of a foggy night," and the story is told. The romance has become a realist. But let us see how Norris lays his plan—in the story it is never carried out. That was reserved for the drama of real life. Here is how the thing is mapped out in "Blix," page 321:

The Robbery Planned.

"I dunno as you'll see me here when you come back, Miss," said the Captain at the gate, his arm around K. D. B.

"I've got to schemin' again. Do you know," he added, in a low, confidential tone, "that all the mines in California send their clean-ups and gold bricks to the Selby smeltin' works once every week? They send 'em to San Francisco first and they are taken up to Selby's Wednesday afternoons on a little stern-wheel steamer called the Monticello. All them bricks are in a box—dumped in like so much coal—and that box sets just under the wheel-house, for'ard. How much money do you suppose them bricks represent? Well, I'll tell you: last week they represented seven hundred and eighty thousand dollars. Well, now, I got a chart of the bay near Vallejo; the channel's all right, but there are mud-flats that run out from shore three miles. Enough water for a whitehall, but not enough for—well, for the patrol boat, for instance. Two or three slick boys, off a foggy night,—of course, I'm not in that kind of game, but strike! it would be a deal now, wouldn't it?"

"Don't you believe him, Miss," put in K. D. B. "He's just talking to show off."

"I think your scheme of holding up a Cunard liner," said Condy, with great earnestness, "is more feasible. You could lay across her course and fly a distress signal. She'd have to heave to."

Condy's skepticism was that of the average man. He was controlled by the same ideas that appear to have controlled the managers of the smelting works. He was no Sinbad, was Condy, so he saw only impossibilities where all was as plain and as easy as falling down stairs to a bold and imaginative spirit.

Frank Norris does not need to write a sequel to "Blix" to develop the marauding plan of the captain. The rifled vault tells its own story and the newspapers have done the rest.

But the Sheriffs and the bloodhounds? They are at sea, but not within hail of the captain's boat with its cargo of gold bars.

"TWO OR THREE SLICK BOYS OF A FOGGY NIGHT," AND—the offer of a reward. But they ought to do something handsome by Norris for giving them the tip.

DIGGING FOR THE MISSING GOLD BARS.

DETECTIVES TAKE UP THE FLOORS IN "BUCK" TAYLOR'S CABIN.

Suspect in Prison but Detectives do not Seem to Have Any Clew.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—Numerous men with shovels and picks were at work this morning at the little cabin of John Winters, an ex-employe of the Selby Smelting Company.

Winters is the man dubbed "Buck" Taylor, and he is now held in custody at the City Prison, having been arrested on the street last evening by Detective Tom Gibson.

Winters is a Norwegian by birth. He left the employ of the smelter about six weeks ago.

While at Crockett he lived in a little cabin 200 yards back of the smelter.

When the police searched the place they found a notice on the door warning people to avoid breaking into the premises on pain of being killed.

It was thought well to dig up the door of the cabin to ascertain whether any of the bricks had been buried there. The diggers met with no success.

MANY OFFICERS ARE HUNTING FOR THE THIEVES

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—The police of this city and the peace officers of nearly every county in the State are using their best efforts to capture the robbers who looted the vault of the Selby Smeltng Works Monday night. Scores of men have been subjected to close scruitiny withi nthe past forty-eight hours; every possible clew has been canvassed with the greatest care, but with it all the identity of the bandits is still uncertain, and the location of the immense treasure which they secured is but a matter of conjecture and speculation.

Of the many men who have been examined by the detectives and the police, only one, John Wintors, formerly an employe of the smelting company, promises to be able to furnish any information that may lead to the solution of the great robbery. He was taken into custody last evening by Police Detective Thomas Gibson. There was little if any evidence against him at that time.

SPENT THE NIGHT WITH A DETECTIVE

Winters was taken at once to the Hall of Justice and turned over to Captain of Detectives Seymour. Under Seymour's direction he was subjected to a most exteting examination. He was compelled to explain his conduct for the past three months and to enter into every detail of his life during that time.

What information was to be found in his answers is as yet unknown. Captain Seymour allowed no one except ex-Chief of Police Lees and Captain McPartland of the Pinkerton Detective Agency, to see the suspect. After two hours of questioning Winters was dismissed from the presence of the Chief of Detectives and sent to the city prison under guard.

GIVEN THIRD DEGREE BY THE DETECTIVES

This morning he was removed from his cell and again taken before Captain Seymour. He was compelled to go over

NON-UNION MEN START THE MILLS.

GUARDS ARE ON DUTY AND STRANGERS ARE NOT ALLOWED TO APPROACH.

Strikers at McKeesport are Stirred up by Reports About Non-Union Workers.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 8.—The "farm" mill of the Lindsay & McCutcheon Company in Allegheny was started this morning by non-union men. Early yesterday afternoon the fires were lighted and everything was placed in readiness for resuming work. No opposition was met with from the striking mill men, for almost to a man they are working in other union mills. They were away from their work when the "farm" mill was started.

GUARDS ON DECK.

Guards patrolled every entrance to the mills and it was next to impossible for a stranger to gain admission to starting were being made. The mill that was put in operation is a finishing mill and manufactures half-inch steel hoops. It is one of three finishing mills in the Lindsay & McCutcheon establishment. There is another mill in the works which turns out billets, but neither it nor the other two finishing mills were started this morning. It is reported that an attempt will be made to start these just as soon as men can be secured.

VERY LITTLE EXCITEMENT

Few of the strike-breakers were taken into the mill until almost the time for the starting whistle to blow and everything was as quiet as a cemetery until

BARK BURNED NEAR HONOLULU.

First Territorial Legislature Has Ended its Lively Session.

HONOLULU, July 31, via Victoria, B. C., Aug. 8.—The ship J. J. Brown, seventy-eight days out from Newcastle, arrived today in good condition. She had a rough voyage and put into Tahiti on account of a leak.

THOMAS AT HONOLULU.

The United States transport Thomas, having on board over 500 school teachers, bound for the Philippines, arrived here today from San Francisco. She will take coal here and will probably continue her journey on August 2d.

BARK BURNED.

The San Francisco bark Empire, Captain Knacke, was burned last week off Mahukona, Hawaii, and is a total loss. She arrived at Mahukona on Friday after a voyage of forty-three days from Newcastle with a cargo of coal. On the morning of the 26th it was discovered that the coal was on fire. After exhaustng every effort to save the vessel, the Captain and crew escaped in their small boats.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The sessions of the First Territorial Legislature came to an end Monday, July 29th, when both houses adjourned sine die. The unpaid bills, on account of which Acting Governor Cooper extended the special session, called to consider appropriations, were provided for in a bill setting aside money to pay them, which Cooper promptly signed. The Legislature refused to consider the matter of a bond issue, which was also presented to them by the acting governor for consideration in the extended session.

BALOON EXPLODES IN PARIS.

BALOONIST NEARLY LOSES HIS LIFE ON A TRIAL TRIP.

Great Air-Ship Struck a Building and Went off Like a Cannon.

PARIS, Aug. 8.—Santos-Dumont started for the E Paree St. Cloud at 6:30 A. M., amid hearty cheers. His initial movements were favorable, as the balloon turned around Eiffel tower nine minutes and thirty seconds after starting.

Just over the Avenue Henri Marien, however, a strong gust of wind struck the aerostat which wavered violently to one side, almost simultaneously bounding backwards a distance of fifty yards. The hydrogen gas was forced from the front to the back part of the balloon, creating a sudden expansion, which caused the machine to dip.

Her screw touched the steel cords and broke them. M. Santos-Dumont immediately stopped the motor and the balloon began to descend.

Unfortunately, the cover of the aerostat struck the corner of a six story building. The balloon collapsed and fell rapidly. Luckily, the frame caught on the coping of the building and the balloon remained suspended; otherwise Santos-Dumont would have been killed.

As it was, the aeronaut hung in a most dangerous position in mid-air for half an hour, until by a great effort he succeeded in catching the iron bar of a window, to which he clung until rescued with some difficulty by the use of ropes.

The balloonist escaped without a scratch, however. The explosion of the balloon attracted enormous crowds and the reception of M. Santos-Dumont upon reaching the street was most enthusiastic, many ladies clinging to his neck and kissing him repeatedly.

As M. Santos-Dumont superintended the removal of the machine he said he was quite ready to re-commence operations.

M. Deutsch, who offered the prize of 100,000 francs for the rounding of the Eiffel tower and the return to the starting point within a given period of time, was so affected by the danger that Dumont passed through that he told him he would rather present him with the prize at once than to see him kill himself with his experiments, but the balloonist replied that he had rounded Eiffel tower in such a short time that he considered the result too satisfactory to permit the relinquishment of his attempts in the future.

JOHN KEARNS WILL RETAIN HIS POSITION.

AUGUST 7, 1901.

An item has been published in many papers of the State saying that Mr. John Kearns has been superseded as Superintendent of the Sunset Telephone and Telegraph Company by Mr. J. F. Townes

This is not correct, as Mr. Kearns still retains his official position as in the past, and will represent the Sunset Company throughout the State of California.

Mr. and Mrs. Shirley have gone to California and will return to New York in the autumn.

RAILROAD PEOPLE NOW FEAR TROUBLE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The State Department has received a communication from J. DR. GEO. C. PARDEE IS A CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

OAKLAND MAN ARRIVES AT LOS ANGELES AND DECLARES THAT HE WILL BE IN THE NEXT GUBERNATORIAL FIGHT.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—Dr. George C. Pardee of Oakland arrived here last evening and left today for Avalon, Catalina Island. The doctor is suffering from an attack of bronchitis and is seeking relief in the mild climate of Avalon.

Before his departure he definitely and positively announced himself as a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination at the hands of the next Republican State Convention.

Dr. Pardee was one of the leading candidates for the honor at the last convention, but withdrew in favor of Henry T. Gage.

(Dr. Pardee did not tell any of his friends in Oakland before his departure that he would be a candidate for Governor.)

EXCURSION TRAINS IN COLLISION.

MANY PEOPLE ARE INJURED WHILE ON A PLEASURE TRIP.

Two Sections on the Pittsburg Line Badly Wrecked This Morning.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 8.—Two sections of an Atlantic City excursion train collided near Confluence, Pa., sixty-four miles east of Pittsburg, about 11 o'clock this morning. Ten persons were seriously injured and a number of others slightly hurt. Those seriously hurt are:

Fireman Shannon, Pittsburg, probably fatally.

P. J. Collins, wife and infant, Youngstown, O.; badly bruised; serious, but not dangerous.

J. H. Davis, Newcastle, Pa.; arm broken and badly bruised.

Mrs. J. H. Davis, Newcastle; bruised.

A. G. Shaw, Pittsburg; badly cut about head.

Miss Helen Lemont, Pittsburg; head cut.

Miss Dora Hartsell, Newcastle; both legs fractured.

J. E. Stillwagon, Connellsville, superintendent waterworks; arms crushed.

AN EARLY START.

The trains left here shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. At Confluence the first section was stopped and the section, rounding the curve, going at the rate of thirty-five miles, crashed into it. The engine of the second section and three cars were wrecked and traffic was delayed several hours. The injured named were removed to the hospital and the others continued on their way to Atlantic City. The accident is supposed to have been caused by a mistake in signals.

TOO LATE TO AVOID WRECK.

A Connellsville dispatch says there were three big sections of the excursion. As the third section neared Confluence the engineer suddenly saw something looming before him on the track. It was the rear end of Section No. 2. It was then too late to avoid the disaster, and the engineer and fireman of the third section jumped. The third section crashed into the pullman car of the rear of the second section, telescoping it.

The people in the rear car were mingled with the debris, and many were seriously hurt, the total list numbering about ten. Messages were immediately sent to Connellsville and a train of three passenger coaches was made up and hurried to the scene. On board were three physicians. The injured were brought to this city. With the exception of the fireman, all, it is thought, will recover.

DUKE AND DUCHESS.

OCEANIC IN A COLLISION IN FOG

Coasting Vessel is Run Down and Seven People are Drowned.

QUEENSTOWN, Aug. 8.—The White Star line steamer Oceanic, Captain Cameron, which sailed from Liverpool yesterday for New York, via Queenstown, arrived here this morning and reported having been in collision last night in the Irish channel with the steamer Kincora, of Waterford, Ireland.

The Kincora sank.

Seven persons were drowned.

The collision occurred in a fog. The bow of the Oceanic was damaged, but this will not prevent her proceeding on her journey.

The Kincora was a coasting vessel, trading between Waterford and Limerick. She was a steel screw steamer of 254 tons and belonged to the Waterford Steamship Company. She had a crew of fourteen men and the Oceanic brought the seven survivors to this port.

WENT INTO STORE AND SHOT WIFE.

Woman Then Turned the Pistol on the Man and Instantly Killed Him.

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 8.—Mrs. Phil Hitchcock, wife of a prominent railroad man, this morning entered the candy store of James W. Roberts on Sixteenth street and shot Mrs. Roberts, inflicting a wound which will probably prove fatal. She was followed to the sidewalk by Mr. Roberts, where she turned and shot him three times. The man fell dead. Mrs. Hitchcock was arrested. The cause of the shooting is not known.

J. P. TAYLOR'S TEAMSTERS THREATEN TO STRIKE

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—It is announced here that the United States Steel Corporation has obtained control of the Shelby Tube Works, a corporation with fifteen mills in various parts of the country, producing tubes of all kinds, but usually of higher grades. The weekly production of the combined mills is about 5,000 tons of tubes.

The mills owned by the Shelby Company are operated by non-union men.

CROOK CAUGHT BY BERLIN POLICE.

BERLIN, Aug. 8.—Dresdener Bank officials have informed the representative of the Associated Press that the checks presented by the man representing himself to be T. C. Bolles of San Francisco, but who registered at the Kaiserhof as Bolles of Boston, and who was arrested yesterday, amounted to $200. Bolles claims that he acquired them in a regular manner at Boston. The checks, which were presented at a branch of the Dresdener Bank, have been identified as part of the booty secured at the robbery of the American Express Company's office. Bolles has not yet applied for help at the American Embassy.

The Kaiserhof people say that he acted in a suspicious manner and that he had ordered his bill and his baggage made ready, evidently planning to leave the town immediately after cashing the checks. The criminal police have seized the baggage of the prisoner.

MEMORIAL SERVICE WILL BE HELD.

Curious Coincidence is Related in Connection With Death of Empress.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—A special to the Herald from Homburg says:

While the service is taking place on Sunday at Cronberg Church, Canon Teignouth-Shore will preach at the memorial service at Homburg.

It is a curious coincidence that on the same day of the same month a year ago the same preacher conducted the memorial service for Duke Alfred of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, at which the Empress Frederick was present.

WILL SEND THE BEETS TO ALVARADO.

TEHAMA, Cal., Aug. 8.—The harvesting of the crop of sugar beets on the Finnell lands begins today. A large number of men and teams will be employed for two or three months gathering, hauling and loading them on cars for shipment to the factory at Alvarado. The crop is estimated at about 15,00 tons, and it is intended to ship about ten cars daily.

PLANTS MAY NOW NEVER BE OPENED.

United States Steel Corporation Will Close Certain Works for Good.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The Times says: When the United States Steel Corporation was formed, a number of not entirely desirable properties were taken over and not discontinued, so as to avoid inviting possible litigation and inimicable legislation. It is now intimated that such of these plants as are now closed may never be reopened, the company picking some of the men for work elsewhere and gradually removing machinery to other plants.

MANY PERSONS ARE INJURED IN SCOTLAND.

PAISLEY, Scotland, Aug. 8.—At the race meeting here today the grand stand, which was crowded with people, collapsed. Many persons are reported to have been injured.

STRIKERS REMAIN QUIET IN SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—Owing to the strike of the sand teamsters work on a number of buildings was suspended today, the contractors being unable to secure supplies.

Negotiations looking toward conciliation have not been entirely abandoned, but there is in the prospect very little to justify a hope for peace. The Municipal League is still trying to bring about a settlement.

The action of the Marine Firemen of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company in leaving work yesterday has so far not crippled the steamers of that company, according to the statement of the owners. The Umatilla sailed on time today and the Corona arrived from Eureka.

The firemen on the latter vessel left the steamer as soon as her passengers and baggage were put ashore. They reported to the Firemen's Union. The number of non-union longshoremen at work on the docks is about the same as reported yesterday.

At the Mail dock there are about 140

SAN FRANCISCO STREETS ARE LEFT UNSWEPT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—Unswept streets, over which there has been but little trafficking, have served today to bring home very forcibly to the pedestrian a recognition of the fact that San Francisco is "tied up" in one of the greatest labor contests in the history of the West.

Owing to an order issued last night by the Sand Teamsters' Union, the drivers on the wagons employed in hauling the sweepings did not report for work and it was therefore useless to send out the street sweeping gangs. The consequence is that the streets, especially in the down-town district, are rapidly becoming filthy, to the dismay of business men and city officials and the annoyance of passers-by.

If the nuisance of unswept streets continues, the United States Government may be asked to take a hand in the strike. It is said that the authorities will be called upon to enforce United States health laws and to have the streets swept under the protection of soldiers.

PLACERVILLE IS PROTECTED BY STATUTE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—The statute of limitations has intervened to protect the city of Placerville from the suit brought by Elizabeth H. LONG SAYS IT LOOKS BLACK.

Notifies Washington That San Francisco Commerce is Tied Up.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—A dispatch has been received at the War Departmetn from Colonel Long, Quartermaster at San Francisco, saying that a serious condition exists there as a result of the strikes. It has been found impossible to procure skilled labor and almost impossible to find labor of any kind to work on the ships.

For this reason the government will turn the transport Lennox over to her owners without removing the government fittings. Heretofore it has been the custom to have a transport refitted on the expiration of the charter as she was before the government took her.

Colonel Long says the commerce of the port of San Francisco has been practically tied up and the strike situation is more serious than at any time since it began.

The government has been able to get its ships fitted up, but with delay. While this delay has been annoying, it has not been of such character as to cripple the government service and no doubt is felt that supplies will be regularly sent to the troops in the Philippines and in Alaska.

HELD UP BY OAKLAND CLUB LADIES.

Contractor Barrett has announced his intention of suspending the construction of the postoffice unless permission, carrying with it the necessary authority, is given him to close Seventeenth street to the public.

The City Council has acted favorably upon a resolution granting Barrett the right. The Mayor and Board of Works, through Street Superintendent Ott, have notified him that he must not close the street. In speaking of the cross-fire between which he now stands, Contractor Barrett said:

"Unless I am granted permission within the next day or two, to close the street, I will notify the Government at Washington that its work here has come to a stop owing to the differences between the politicians of Oakland. All this bother is rank nonsense. I can and so can the Government, wait as long as the people of Oakland for the new postoffice. The Government is hardly ever in a hurry.

"I was approached by the club having its quarters next to the ground where the stone will be cut with the proposition that if I would pay them $10 per month for the privilege of closing a public street, they would withdraw the opposition in the City Council. When the proposition was first broached they only wanted $10. Since then they have asked for $25 a month. They are adies, and it is a delicate subject, but the Government work will probably proceed without the paying to private individuals of $25 per month to close a public street. I have offered them $40 for the entire eight months, but specified that if I did get permission from the Council while they still opposed me, I would not give them anything."

Contractor Barrett had an informal conference with the members of the Board of Public Works this morning. The result of the conference was granting him permission fence in ten feet of Broadway running along the line of the proposed building, but the matter of closing Seventeenth street is still held in abeyance.

CONFERENCE MEANS MUCH TO THE MEN.

Shaffer and Gompers Are Holding a Secret Meeting in Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 8.—President Shaffer and President Gompers are now in conference. The latter came here last night from Atlantic City, accompanied by Secretary Morrison, and reached the strike headquarters unobserved.

The conference is a secret one; in fact, it is not generally known here that he is in the city.

The results of this conference are of the greatest importance to the strikers. Thousands of the Federation men work side by side with the Amalgamated men and their policy as to the strike will be vitally important. Besides that, the Federation has a vast membership and its financial assistance is an important consideration.

SEATTLE WAS NAMED AFTER THIS MAN.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 8.—A special to the Star from Lawrence, Kan., says:

Matthew T. Seattle, after whose grandfather the city of Seattle, Wash., was named, died here today of consumption. Seattle was an Indian. He was a graduate of the Haskell Institute and was taking a course in law at the University of Kansas. He was a member of the Lawrence Masonic Lodge, the first Indian ever taken into the lodge, and will be given a Masonic burial.

FIELD MARSHAL IS IN GERMANY.

Hero of the Chinese War Given a Reception by His People.

HAMBURG, Aug. 8.—The steamer Gera, with Count von Waldersee on board, arrived here today. The Field Marshal landed immediately and amidst ringing cheers from the crowds assembled.

General von Wittich representing Emperor William, welcomed von Waldersee. After an inspection of the guard of honor, the Field Marshal, accompanied by General von Wittich and escorted by a squad of the King's Uhlans, proceeded to the town hall. He was warmly applauded as he passed through the thronged and decorated streets. At the town hall the Field Marshal was received by the Senate, which body subsequently gave a luncheon in his honor.

NON-UNION MEN START THE MILLS.

that time, except for the noise of a few laborers working on repairs. It required the finding of only twenty mill men to start the "farm mill," for all the laborers needed were easily obtainable.

Little or no excitement prevailed in the neighborhood because none of the strikers from the McCutcheon mills were at home. A watchman said early this morning, however, that there would probably be a large and curious crowd along the railroad in the mill yards today, watching the operations and he predicted that there might be trouble.

ANOTHER MILL STARTS WITH NON-UNION MEN.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 8.—The nine-inch mill of the Clark plant, Thirty-fifth street, Lawrenceville opened this morning with forty-two men. It is claimed by the company that this makes the total number of men in the mill 462 and leaves but one mill idle. It is said the nine, ten, twelve and twenty inch mill is now working full turn. All the men employed are non-union. By Monday morning the management claim the eight-inch mill will be running and the plant will be in full operation. But few strikers were seen about the plaze and everything was quiet.

Do Not Sleep in Mill.

Captain Louis Brown of the mill said that the report concerning the men sleeping in the mill was unfounded. He said they left when their work was completed and returned in time for the turn, and that the strikers were not molesting them. He said further that the work turned out by the men yesterday was up to the standard and not a bar of material was lost, something remarkable, he claimed, in a mill where men who have not worked together before are employed.

Excitement at McKeesport.

At McKeesport last night the Wood Company doubled its guards and the report that non-union men were to be brought to town stirred the strikers to excitement. No men were brought in, however. Some of the men employed at the National Steel plant, an adjunct of the National Tube Company, formed a new Amalgamated lodge last night. Reports from Leechburg, Apollo, Saltsburg and Vandergrift, where the Amalgamated Association has had but few friends since the Homestead strike, say that there is a feeling of restlessness since the general strike order was issued and that a division of sentiment was created. The steel officials say they fear no trouble, however.

Left the Ranks.

An official of Lafayette Lodge of the Amalgamated Association admits that six members of the organization have deserted and accepted places in the Clark mill, which was opened yesterday. He claims, however, that they regret their step and have agreed to quit provided they are reinstated. Officials of the same lodge say that the crew of the nine inch mill of the Carnegie works will be transferred to the Clark mill as part of a plan to get that mill in full operation and weaken the strikers.

WILL START PLANT AT CARNEGIE ON MONDAY

PITTSBURG, Aug. 8.—The management of the Chartiers mill at Carnegie, Pa., will make an effort to start that plant next Monday. General Manager Henry notified the strikers yesterday that work would be resumed on that day and in future the mill would be non-union. The strikers are credited with saying that they will guard the mill night and day and prevent strike-breakers from taking their places. The Republic Iron and Steel Works on the South Side was working today, but the Amalgamated people assert that the 900 people employed there will obey the strike order. The strike at Wellsville is practically over. This morning ten more workers were put to work without trouble. Very few strikers will remain in the town. The strikers held for rioting are to be tried next Tuesday. Congressman R. W. Taylor has been retained to defend the strikers and Judge P. M. Smith will assist the prosecution as special counsel.

Policemen on Guard.

Painter's mill of the American Steel Hoop Company, on the South Side, it is said, will start operations today or tomorrow. The furnaces have been lighted for two days. A policeman is standing guard at the entrance to the plant, but a reserve force of six men is being held at No. 8 police station.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The Navy Department has ordered the battleship Wisconsin, now at the Puget Sound navy station, to San Francisco, to be in readiness there to proceed to Panama in case the State Department asks for a war vessel on the Pacific side of the isthmus.

SIXTEEN YEARS IN PROBATE COURT

Remarkable Case is Set for Hearing in the Superior Court.

The heirs of Bridget Stokes, who died in this city on February 11, 1885, are having a long wait for the bequests left them.

The estate has now been in course of probate for more than sixteen years and it is still in an unsettled condition. The granting of continuances has been one of the principal duties performed by the court since the probate proceedings were first commenced. The case has been continued forty-two times for hearings. The last continuance was granted Monday. The case is set for hearing tomorrow, but may not be heard, as another continuance may be asked.

The chief cause of the delay in settling the estate is an objection made by the attorneys for the heirs to the account filed by the administrator.

When Mrs. Stokes died her estate was appraised at $4,199.89. The appraisers were E. H. Hamilton, W. S. Henshaw and W. S. O'Brien. According to the terms of the will, dated July 25, 1874, one half of the property was left to James Boyle, a brother residing in Ireland, to be held in trust for his children. The other half of the property was left to Mrs. Maggie Robinson, a niece, and her children, Rev. Father King and William Hoskins were named to act as executors. Hoskins died and Father King resigned in favor of Louis Gottschall, who was then Public Administrator.

Gottshall was granted letters on the estate. Attorneys J. E. McElroy and J. W. Stetson were appointed to represent the absent heirs. Attorney E. C. Robinson represented Gottshall.

Affairs proceeded smoothly until Gottshall filed his second account of the estate. His receipts were shown to be $2,633.75, while his expenditures had been $2,825. There was a balance of $689.55 owing the administrator.

Among the items of expense was $1,000 paid to Attorney Robinson for taking a trip to Idaho to see the divorced husband, Richard Stokes, in regard to quieting the title to some realty. The attorneys for the heirs objected to this item. They also objected to other items for which no vouchers had been presented.

Court Commissioner George Babcock was appointed by Judge Greene to investigate the account. His report was filed recently. He states that altogether Robinson has been paid $1,200 from the estate. The sum of $200 was paid prior to his trip to Idaho. He also reserved his right to put in a claim for fees for subsequent services.

DIGGING FOR MISSING COLD BARS.

much of his story of last night and to explain incidents and events which when inquired into during the night proved to be uncertain, even impossible. Winters spent nearly three hours answering the detectives' second installment of questions. Then he was returned to the City Prison and again the Captain of Detectives refused to be interviewed.

The suspect is an ordinary looking man, six feet in height, thin and roughly dressed.

Winters left his place in the Selby Smelting Works about six weeks ago. He explained to his employers that he was ill and in need of rest. His home was in a cabin about half a mile from the plant, where he was secure from inquiry and suspicion. It is said that Winters left his cabin on Sunday. Where he went is not explained. Detective Gibson discovered Tuesday that his conduct was not above suspicion immediately preceding the robbery, and after some effort succeeded in tracing him to this city.

THE REWARD IS NOW INCREASED TO $25,000

As a stimulus to the officers who are searching for the robbers, the smelting company has offered a reward of $25,000 for their arrest and imprisonment. It is believed that some one in the employment of the company directed the robbery. Upon no other hypothesis can it be explained how the robbers knew that the vault contined such a large amount of bullion. On Monday the shipment from the main office to the works was nearly a million dollars. Usually it is but little more than $10,000 and seldom as much as $50,000.

The officers of the company have been advised by the police to say nothing further about the robbery. Consequently, when inquiry was made at the local office today, it was announced that there was nothing more to be said. Work is progressing at the works as if nothing had happened. The company has made good the loss its customers sustained and will itself bear the burden of the missing bullion.

Richard Phelan, who was said Tuesday to know something about the robbery, came down from Sierra City last night. He had no difficulty in proving an alibi.

Vivian answers the description of Foreman. The Sheriff of Cochise county, Arizona, will come to take the prisoner back to Arizona.

GEN. M'ARTHUR SENDS REPORT TO WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The annual report of Major-General MacArthur, dated July 4, 1901, the day that he relinquished command of the division of the Philippines, has been received at the War Department. The period covered by the report is from October 1, 1900, when the last report from General MacArthur was dated. He reviews the policy of the Filipinos who are hostile to the Americans, saying that their action since the practical collapse of the insurrection has been a perplexing problem.

General MacArthur gives the following statistics from May 5, 1900, to June 30, 1901, (during which time there were 1,026 contacts between American troops and insurgents — Americans killed, 243; wounded, 490; captured, 181; missing, 20. THE STEEL STRIKE LEADER DENIES REPORTS.

President Shaffer Says the Corporation Cannot Get Men for the Work.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 8.—President Shaffer, when shown the report of the starting of the Lindsay & McCutcheon plant of the American Steel Hoop Company, said:

"There is nothing in it. I have a report from Vice President Gibson informing me that there are only two men at the works. One is a striker and the other a common laborer. It would do them no good and will do the company harm to take men from other mills and put them there, as they would only break the machinery and spoil the material.

"There is no place for them to get raw material, as they cannot get the puddlers to make it, so how can they run the finishing mills?

"Why, I can't get puddlers for union mills. I have an order for ninety puddlers to go to work at once at the Sligo mills on the South Side and cannot get them."

MAYOR WILL ENFORCE LAW.

Business Men May be Arrested for not Paying Sign License.

Mayor Barstow is going to vigorously enforce the city ordinance compelling business and professional men who display signs in their calling to pay an annual license to the City Tax Collector.

He announced his intention of using whatever power was vested in him to compel the numerous delinquents to pay the license.

License Inspector Newell has received instructions from the Mayor to vigorously enforce the new ordinance. Among the many business houses, lawyers, doctors and professional men, very few have paid any attention to the ordinance. License Inspector Newell is ordered to put an end to the apparent ignoring of the ordinance and compel the tardy ones to pay the tax.

City Treasurer Taylor states that the ordinance made no provision whereby he could facilitate the collection of the tax. No deputy was appointed under the ordinance, and the collection must proceed through the efforts of License Inspector Newell. Very few business men have called at the Treasurer's department to pay their tax, and the receipts from that source have been very small thus far.

THE COMING CUP RACE.

The fact that Sir Thomas Lipton's cup-challenger, Shamrock II. is expected at New York before the present week closes is focussing the public attention upon the approaching international event which this time promises to be more interesting than ever. Lipton's unbounded ambitions have led him to make the effort of his life upon this occasion, for he is a man of great social aspirations, and he knows that if he could succeed in wresting the coveted trophy from American hands and restore to Britannia her full rights to the title of mistress of the seas he would be the lion of the hour in England and might perchance secure the peerage upon which he has builded his lifelong hopes.

While, therefore, reports have come from the other side apparently discouraging to the challenger, the fact that she is hammering to pieces the record made by her predecessor, Shamrock I., in crossing the ocean is making our yachtsmen do some hard thinking, especially as rumors have been current for awhile that the tests of the challenger on the English coast were not thoroughly true as to her merits. There would be no offense against the ethics of sport for Lipton to have concealed the speed or abilities of his boat, for he is perfectly justified in taking us off guard if he can do so, the only restrictions in that regard being when the actual international racing begins.

As in addition to all this, we are confronted with the probability that our new defender, the Constitution, is not as good as the Columbia, that raced against Lipton's boat two years ago, the situation becomes interesting. It is indeed not unlikely that we will take advantage of the conditions governing the cup race that permit us to substitute the Columbia for the new boat, for we cannot afford to take any chances as to the result. The event is only one of pure sport it is true, but we have attached to it considerable National honor and prestige and a defeat would be taken to heart by the people as almost in the light of a public calamity. The Columbia must therefore carry our colors when the eventful day comes if it is conclusively determined by our yachting experts that she is a better boat than the Constitution, as indeed seems to be the case.

A newspaper was the first business enterprise in Lawton, the new town created by the recent rush to Oklahoma. The power of the press is naturally the motive force that starts up all other branches of industry.

A WOMAN'S VIEW OF WATER CASE.

Mrs. Laura W. Bacon Gives Her Opinion of the Contra Costa Company.

Editor TRIBUNE:—The writer was surprised to see that an off-hand communication to City Attorney Johnson had been given to the public. Since even Satan has a hearing, nowadays, the Water Company has its side of the story also, a right that we never thought to accord it until recently, so imbued were we with the impression that this corporation was an illustration of iniquity absolute and complete, and merited all the abuse so universally awarded it.

Now, is the business of the Water Company conducted on the same principles by which the whole mercantile world is controlled, or is it a "thing apart," based upon a greed so monstrous as to warrant its universal condemnation by all who have the good of their fellow creatures at heart? Or, to cut it short, why is the custom or habit that rules all lines of business so vehemently abhorred when employed by the Water Company? The latter supplies an imperative requisite of life, it is said, since all animals suffer less from lack of food than water; therefore it must be at the call of all living creatures, or death ensues. True; but food is an equal necessity, and so is raiment; and water alone will not arrest starvation, though it be the essential element of existence, ranking second only to air. That neither the grocer, the butcher, the merchant, nor any other dealer in the necessaries of life supplies his wares from the benevolent intention of ministering to the wants of his suffering fellows is evident enough; therefore we will admit that the whole business world moves from mercenary motives, and is actuated by the desire to exact from patrons as great a gain from their respective investments as possible. Then, all commercial transactions are equally based upon the lust for gold, so the starting point, the soul of it all, is the same in all businesses and professions.

There is then, in truth, no more justice in raising a "hue and cry" about the rise in the water rates than about the increased costs of articles that maintain the body, whether they be food or raiment. It must be admitted that it is as fair and square for the water company to extort the utmost farthing from its patrons as for the butcher, the grocer, the merchant and all who barter or sell to advance the prices of their wares and products whenever the market makes such a turn in their favor possible. Where is the dealer in the necessaries of life who does not eagerly double the selling price of his commodities, and even deplete the poor workingman, on the plea that all such stock has so increased n value that to reap any profit he, the seller must secure a sum sufficient to protect him from loss; when, verily, could the wares on shelves or counters speak, they would proclaim that their day of purchase dated months and even years before the reported advance, and that the rising market returns a ten-fold ratio to the dealer, whose voice calls "Wolf! Wolf!" to the Water Company.

Now if it be right and upright for all tradesmen and peoples engaged in any business whatsoever to promptly elevate the price of goods to suit the sliding scale of the market, why, in the name of all that is harmful, should it be wrong for the Contra Costa Water Company to practice similar selfish tactics for the betterment of its interests? Why should the Water Company be singled out for revilement, and slimed with contumely because, like its mates and associates in the business world, it considers its own advantage before those of its patrons, and demands from its investment the very sane almighty dollars, and many of them, too, without caring for the consequences to those upon whom it levies tribute. And the Water Company has this in its favor, that its rates are fixed for a definite period and are not affected by the fluctuations of a capricious market; and, most meritorious of all, the Water Company's charges are conceded by a Council that receives its authority by virtue of the voters who voluntarily conferred such authority upon them. It is the law of the Nation that the will of the voters is the wish of the people and the latter must submit to the decree of those whom of their own accord they elected to act as their representatives. Therefore, the voters of Oakland having placed the Water Company in its present position have no cause to complain any more than the ignorant child that punctuates its drum head to see where the sound comes from. Why should we denounce the water corporation and spare the respected and approved merchants and business men generally, whose exactions are as merciless in the relations with their customers, and whose extortions lack the public approval stamp, and seal of the voters, since throughout the length and breadth of our land it is maintained that the law of the majority shall be supreme.

If the quadruped with the long ears be elected to a high lace in the land and disguised to deceive those who like to be duped, and who believe great benefits will befall them before the real animal is exposed, rest assured that sooner or later the bray will betray the beast every time. Candor compels one to confess that the Contra Costa Water Company is as honorable and just in the manipulation of its affairs as any other business concern in this wide world, and if we cry shame upon one why not upon all since the indictment would be the same. Though the Water Company is like all its business associates, created from a love of lucre, there are scores of cases wherein this muchly-maligned octopus has shown itself not to be deficient in "the milk of human kindness;" that greater leniency has not been manifested arises from the fact that the majority of its patrons regard the water bill as a payment to be evaded whenever possible. Having placed the Water Company upon the same plane as its peers in the commercial marts, we concede it should run the same risk in collecting its dues as is assumed by the different dealers who supplly the daily perishable wants of the household. Since the law allows the toll of water rates at figures fixed by the voters, the Water Company can not be denied its demands; only let it hold the actual consumer of the water, and not the property owner responsible for the cost of the same. Property owners are often victimized by bad tenants and are powerless before politicians since many possessors of small holdings are non-voters, and can hope for no relief from the polls; therefore it would seem to be a just decision that the tenant and not the owner should be liable for the water provided for the use of the former, and not enforce such payment upon the property holder, as the latter, what with taxes and endless assessments for improvements, has already as big a burden as he can stagger under.

Since it is clearly shown that the Water Company has as clean a character as any of its conferes, no good can result from continued assaults upon it. If the people of Oakland were in earnest about municipal ownership of water it could have purchased the Oakland Water Company before the latter thought of a union with the Contra Costa Company, and much money and vituperation could have been saved.

Free water, as it is called, would confer advantages upon our community with which no Carnegie Library could compare, and render Oakland a paradise of greenery and flowers, a city of parks where no home, however humble, but could afford a setting of emerald green. Well then let the citizens set about to acquire municipal ownership of water in the right way; what is gained by taxing the people to test wells that will return them no benefit whatever? All cities purchase the water rights from the companies who were first on the field, and no water supply is available that would cost a smaller sum than the Contra Costa Water Company might require for the purchase of its outfit. Give the young child a garden, and interest it in the wonders and magic of nature, and the influence exerted will be more elevating and beneficial that can be gained by idling about a library and reading books that unfit the youthful reader for a correct impression of the life that reaches out before him. Let us have municipal ownership of water and let us economize. Let the man who is elected to a position pay all expenses connected with his election, as the domestic does the intelligence office that provides her with a situation. Let the W. C. T. U. and the Good Templars unite and solicit contributions for a water fund, since their societies will never flourish so long as water is a luxury, and as such cannot contribute to their convert's enjoyment. Let a subscription be solicited from everyone living in Oakland, from not only adults, but from the school children, to form the nucleus of a water fund that when once obtained will do more for Oakland than universities or libraries since many never have the time for the one, nor the leisure for the other, while abundance of water at a nominal cost would benefit everyone and lessen the load of the burden bearers of the community. Think what happiness the taxpayer would enjoy from the novelty of such an improvement as free water, since it would be unattended by the pain he feels when he walks the streets, for whose improvements he has paid, and notes the daily wasting away of pavements and sidewalks under the wear and tear of those who are too wise to become property owners.

Condemn the water company when Christian cities under the guise of taxations and assessments steal the home from the small wage owner, who saved and denied to own the roof he called his own! Can the water company do worse than this? Can a more cruelly merciless act be committed than that of seizing the home of the workingman so that streets shall be beautified and contractors enriched? Better have unpaved streets and walks, and carpetless floors in official buildings, and no linen writing paper, if to obtain such improvements homes must be sacrificed and honest hearts embittered.

Yes, the water company serves as a good text, but how does its acknowledged, every-day, normal meanness shrink into nothingness beside that condition of Christianity where a family lays the father to rest, unattended, because there is no money to put in the palm of the pastor, so he can read the burial service for the afflicted and bereft mourners! What stands between the sympathy of the soul in distress and the minister who claims to act for Christ, but money which forms a barrier no proud heart will seek to surmount. No, the water company is a clean corporation compared with many evils that exist today, when we have the courage to open our eyes to the realities about us. A lion is a lion, and if we deliberately open his jaws and pillow our head therein, we must know that the animal will not stand the tension long simply from regard for our safety, but the mouth will close and the head will be off, for given a lion staring and ill used, it will surely never let go of a morsel once it comes within contact of its teeth.

Having never received any favors from the Contra Costa Water Company, as late threats of their intention to shut off water when at all delinquent can testify to, we are free to speak what we regard is the truth about this corporation, after consideration of all the resources at command that proved so conclusively that this great concern is no better, nor worse, and not even so bad as many who have held it up as a target for public practice. Yours for municipal ownership of water now and for all time,

LAURA W. BACON.

LODGE NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Interesting Notes From the Fraternal Organizations of the City.

A large number of members was present last Monday evening at the meeting of Oak Leaf Lodge No. 35, A. O. U. W.

During the evening, Brother T. O. Crawford delivered an address on "Citizenship; Its Rights and Its Duties," which was most interesting and instructive.

A rising vote of thanks was accorded the gentleman on the conclusion of his eloquent effort.

Master Workman Jackson of Keystone Lodge invited all present to the meeting of his lodge, Tuesday evening next, when a special program is to be prepared for the occasion.

The committee to visit the sick reported that Brother Charles Hurd had recovered from his severe attack of rheumatism.

Five applications for membership were received and committees of investigation were appointed to interview those desirous of becoming members of the order.

Brother Bowersmith, Hall, Cogan, Clifford, Gibson, Greenebaum, Colquhoun, Andrews, Preston, Pallenbaum, Ingersoll, Leimert, Thompson, McCracken and others made interesting remarks. Brother J. A. C. Macdonald as financier showed great adeptness and ability in his new position.

A BUSY LODGE.

It is surprising to see the great interest manifested by the members of Evening Star Lodge and its officers, in conferring the degrees, the work of which is pronounced marvelous for new officers. A large attendance is on hand at every meeting.

Tomorrow evening business of importance will come before the lodge, and members are requested to govern themselves accordingly.

CATHOLIC LADIES' AID SOCIETY.

The Catholic Ladies' Aid Society will hold their next meeting Monday evening, August 12th, in Grove Street Hall.

On Monday evening, August 19th, the society will hold a quarterly meeting in the same hall. All branches will be represented and all reports will be read.

Members and their friends are invited.

LADIES OF THE MACABEES.

The ladies of Oakland Hive No. 14, L. O. T. M., will not hold their usual Friday night social this month, as they have been invited by Oakland Tent No. 17, K. O. T. M., to attend a reception in their honor, to be given by the latter organization next Monday evening, in their elegant new apartments at Maccabee Temple, corner Clay and Eleventh streets.

The Hive has grown greatly during the past year, and has cause to feel much elated over many features of its success. Applications and initiations have beome the regular order of the reviews.

The members and their visitors are justly proud of the Hives new uniforms for the "guards" and the excellent manner in which the young ladies execute their work is highly appreciated by the newly-initiated.

Oakland Hive was paid a very deserving compliment by the supreme commander of the order, Mrs. Lillian M. Hollister, at Port Huron, Michigan, when the latter on the first of June last appointed Mrs. M. W. Aydelotte to the office of State Commander of the L. O. T. M. for California. This is also a compliment to the State, as Mrs. Aydelotte is the first Californian appointed to that office.

Under the advice of Commander Aydelotte, the L. O. T. M. in this State will be advanced at such a pace as to surprise even the most liberal people engaged in the work.

Mrs. Aydelotte is one of the most successful fraternal women in the West, having for a number of years given much of her time to the cause, through her ardent love for and belief in the harmonizing spirit of fraternity.

REBEKAHS.

Oakland Rebekah Lodge, No. 16, I. O. O. F., has started in the current term with good prospects.

The efficient staff of officers with P. N. G., Sister Etta Myers; N. G., Sister Linnie Lynn; V. G., Sister Jennie Heaton; recording secretary, Sister Grace McPhail; financial secretary, Sister Sarah Knight; treasurer, Brother Sam Knight; chaplain, Sister Kittie Bullock, are stirring Rebekahs who have the lodge's best interests at heart.

On adjourning at the last session, those members present paid Concordia Rebekah Lodge a fraternal visit.

Next Saturday evening, the business will be hurried through in order to drill.

Brother Gus Price, whom the members are happy to secure as drillmaster will add some new features to the tactics. Rebekahs are cordially invited to meet with No. 16 Saturday evening in Gier's Hall.

ABSIT INVIDIA LODGE.

The regular home social of Absit Invidia Rebekah Lodge, No. 11 I. O. O. F., was held Tuesday evening at Elks' Hall. An enjoyable evening was spent. Several unique features were introduced, one of which was a cake-eating contest which created much amusement.

Brother Willeford gave several comic recitations.

The committee then served refreshments and the remainder of the evening was spent n dancing.

The entertainment to take place at Elks' Hall, Tuesday evening, August 27th, promises to be a great success.

Visitors at Absit Invidia will always be accorded a hearty welcome.

ODD FELLOWS.

Evening Star lodge, No. 260, I. O. O. F., will confer the First Degree on two candidates tomorrow evening, August 9th. The lodge room is situated at the corner of Twenty-fourth avenue and East Fourteenth street.

HARBOR LODGE.

Harbor Lodge, No. 253, I. O. O. F. held an enthusiastic meeting last evening.

Considerable business was transacted. A proposition for membership was acted upon.

The drill master had his "colts" at work as the Initiatory Degree work is to be executed at the next session, Wednesday evening, August 14th, to which all Odd Fellows are invited.

Grand Old Men

Some men seem to defy old age. They walk erect. Their eyes are bright. Their laugh is hearty. They are men of to-day—not men of yesterday. They are also men who have kept themselves in good physical condition in the past. As we grow older waste matter accumulates in the system. The body cannot throw it off without assistance. So, little by little the machinery of the body is clogged, vitality is lowered, and enjoyment of life ceases. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, cannot make old men young, but it does make them strong and healthy. By removing the waste accumulations, by increasing the blood supply, by strengthening the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition, and thus increasing the assimilative and nutritive powers, "Golden Medical Discovery" makes grand old men.

"I suffered for six years with constipation and indigestion, during which time I employed several physicians, but they could not reach my case," writes Mr. G. Popplewell, of Eureka Springs, Carroll Co., Ark. "I felt that there was no help for me, could not retain food on my stomach; had vertigo and would fall helpless to the floor. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and little 'Pellets.' I am now in good health for one of my age—60 years. I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's medicines."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets greatly benefit old men by keeping the bowels in activity.

MASONIC.

Brooklyn Lodge, No. 225, F. & A. M., at East Oakland will confer the First Degree, Tuesday evening, August 13th.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Another rousing and enthusiastic meeting was held by Dirgo lodge, No. 224, Knights of Pythias, last Tuesday evening, at their castle hall.

Four members were initiated in the Page Rank and seventeen were given the Esquire Rank.

The growth of this lodge is something remarkable as their initiations run from fifteen to twenty per month.

Despite the large amount of new timber they are taking in, the lodge is exercising great care in the class of men whom they accept.

The office of master-at-arms was filled by the election of W. P. Williams who just came in by card from Dirigo Lodge of New York. He was installed by Grand District Deputy James R. Sloan, assisted by the following acting grand officers; A. F. Trahan, chancellor commander of Oakland Lodge, No. 105; past supreme representative, F. E. Covey, of Nemo Lodge of Stockton; past chancellor J. Victors of Alameda Lodge, Alameda, and a number of other visiting brothers who were present.

The lodge will confer the Knight Rank Tuesday next and extends a cordial invitation to all knights in good standing to be present.

OAKLAND LODGE.

Knights of Pythias, Oakland Lodge, No. 103.

Strangers Bulin and Wood were initiated into the sublime mysteries of the Rank of Page in Oakland Lodge, No. 103, at its session Thursday last. Many visitors were present from local lodges from San Francisco with a generous sprinkling from various domains throughout the supreme jurisdiction, consequently a most pleasant and interesting portion of the evening was passed under the "head of good and welfare of the order."

At to-night's convention, the Page Rank will be conferred on two strangers. This will be followed by the fourth rank in the inimitable style of Oakland Lodge.

Sojourning brothers are reminded that literally speaking, the latch-string of No. 103 hands outside its castle gate at No. 521 Twelfth street.

PIEDMONT LODGE.

Piedmont Lodge, No. 172, Monday night, conferred the Page Rank upon a stranger.

At the next regular convention it will confer the Esquire Rank upon two pages.

A number of visitors were present among them Supreme Representative Brother George Samuels, Chancellor Commander Threhan of No. 103, Vice Chancellor Bernstein of No. 103, Brothers Bowman, Bonhan, Friedman and others.

COMPANIONS OF THE FOREST.

Pride of the Forest Circle, No. 122, C. O. F., had a large attendance at last Thursday evening's meeting and quite an amount of routine business was transacted.

Almost every meeting night new members are initiated. Twelve of these are to be initiated soon.

The Circle is growing rapidly and will soon be one of the largest circles on this side of the bay.

CLAN MACDONALD.

Clan Macdonald 79 will banquet friends tomorrow night. There will also be a social and dance.

ST. PATRICK'S ALLIANCE.

A new feature adopted by Oakland Alliance No. 5 is the social or entertainment fund. All members contribute to the fund and sufficient is raised to have a pleasant time about once every six weeks.

The members of No. 5 are looking forward to Sunday next, the 11th inst., when they will have their excursion to Fernbrook in Niles Canyon. There is a general demand for tickets, and every indication points to a large attendance and a very enjoyable time. At the meeting this evening final arrangements will be completed.

YOUNG MEN'S INSTITUTE.

Oakland Council No 6, Y. M. I., will hold a regular meeting this evening. On Thursday evening, August 22d, this Council will give a social dance at Foresters Hall, Clay street, near Thirteenth.

California Council No. 24 of Alameda held a delightful social affair Friday evening, August 2d.

Cathedral Council No. 59 will hold a series of progressive euchre parties at Golden Gate Hall, San Francisco, beginning August 9th.

The sum of $237 has been contributed by the various Councils of the Y. M. I. to the Stephen M. White Memorial Fund. Several Councils are yet to be heard from.

The Grand Council of the Y. M. I. will convene in San Francisco on August 19th. One of the most important questions to come before that body will be the changing of the name from "Young Men's Institute" to "Catholic Institute of America."

The Institute was never in a better condition than it is at present. It now has the quality of membership that insures long and prosperous life. The past year has witnessed a very strong growth and the outlook is very promising.

WILL CONTEST PAYMENT.

The Enterprise Printing Company has commenced suit in Judge Greene's court against George L. Yager, a member of the fire department, for the recovery of $5, alleged to be due on his subscription to a book called "Exempt Fire Department." This is simply a test case and if the company wins similar action will be instituted against many other members of the department. The firemen claim that they subscribed to the book under the representation that a history of the Oakland Department would be incorporated in the book. Members of the department will contest the payment of the claim.

Mrs. Peter McMurray of West Oakland is preparing to sue the Oakland Transit Co. for damages on account of injuries received the day President McKinley visited this city. A large number were present to sign the roll and much enthusiasm was shown. Mrs. C. K. King was elected president, Mrs. Hoogs, vice-president; Mrs. Church, treasurer and Miss Grace King secretary.

The business for the evening, further than electing offivers, was the preparation of the Camp Fire to be given next Wednesday evening by the members of Company A and the ladies' order. Officers from San Francisco and Sacramento will be present and an enjoyable and successful time is anticipated.

OAKLAND HARBOR NEWS NOTES.

Little Work is Being Done in the Shipyards Along the Front.

If it were not for the fruit trade now being carried on between this city and Sacramento river points, there would be practically no business on the water front. With the reception of between 2,500 and 5,000 boxes of fruit daily comes a general activity on the wharves. Work in the ship yards is extremely dull, there being no new contracts let since the commencement of the strike. In all probability as soon as the present improvements on various vessels that have been in the yards for a month or more are well under way, many of the workmen will be discharged.

Work on Samar.

Work on Sandes & Fleishmann's new four-masted schooner Samar, now in process of construction at Hay & Wright's, is progressing rapidly. The after cabin is nearly completed and the bowsprit has been in position for some time. The outside corking is also finished, and the hull up to the gunwale has received the first coat of paint.

Completing the Alcatraz.

The Alcatraz, which has been on the ways for the past three weeks, is rapidly forging ahead in the matter of improvements. All the hull stanchions are in position and the work of covering the hull is now well under way.

Vessels Tied Up.

The Santa Paula, Mary Winkelman and Alcazar are still in the stream unable to obtain crews, ballast or coal. The work of improving the hull of the Santa Paula was completed a year ago, but she is now "tied up" at the wharf unable to go to sea on account of the strike.

Refused a Contract.

Mr. Hay of Hay & Wright's yard claims that the company was compelled to refuse the acceptance of a contract for the erection of a new schooner. He takes a decidedly gloomy view of the present situation and is in daily dread that the men in the yards will go out with the strikers.

Harbor Notes.

The eight lighters that are being built at Beetle's Boat Works are being rapidly rushed to completion. When finished they will be engaged in the beach trade at Nome.

For the past two days the Franklin street bridge has been crowded with men and boys who have been attracted there by the good fishing. Two bass, weighing in the neighborhood of six pounds, were caught yesterday, as well as a number of smaller fish in which the estuary abounds in this vicinity.

CHARLIE HEESEMAN RETURNS FROM THE EAST.

Mr. Charles J. Heeseman, the popular and enterprising Washington street clothing merchant, returned this morning from an extended Eastern trip, and he says he is delighted to get back home. During his sojourn he visited New York, Chicago, Buffalo, Boston, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Detroit, Philadelphia, and other cities. He reports business brisk in the East, with encouraging prospects of a lively fall and winter trade. Of all the cities he visited Mr. Heeseman could find none to compare with Oakland for climate or as a place of residence. All this city lacks is a little more enterprise in business, and her future is assured. Mr. Heeseman looks hale and hearty, though he feels the necessity of a few days' rest after his long trip.

PUTS IT ON HUSBAND.

A general demurrer has been filed by John Geiser to the suit brought by Mrs. Elizabeth Lange to quiet title to a piece of property in this city. Geiser is suing Mrs. Lange and her divorced husband Theodore Lange, in another action to foreclose a mortgage of $1,000 on the property in question. Mrs. Lange claims that the property is exempt from execution because she declared a homestead on it prior to the mortgage. She also contends that her ex-husband is liable for the debt.

GREENWALD NOT GUILTY.

The charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman preferred against Officer Frank Greenwald were dismissed this morning at a meeting of the Police and Fire Commissioners.

Mr. Greenwald's story that he only showed friendship for Lily Simonds was believed.

MRS. STEWART'S ESTATE.

The estate of Georgia A. Stewart, deceased, has been appraised at $5,909.52. It consists of about $2,000 worth of promissory notes and cash and some realty. Other property in San Mateo has been appraised at $475.

A distribution of the estate to the husband, James Stewart, is asked.

LONGSHOREMEN QUIT WORK.

Obey the Call of the Walking Delegate and Drop Their Trucks.

This morning several men employed by the Humboldt Lumber Company, at the wharf of E. B. and A. L. Stone on the harbor, were called off the job by Walking Delegate Nielson of the Longshoremen's Union. They were placing on trucks lumber which had been unloaded from the ship Mandalay by the employes of the E. B. and A. L. Stone Supply Company. Neilson showed that the Stone employes were non-union men and that union longshoremen could not, therefore, handle any lumber which they shoved off the ship because in performing that work Stone's men were taking the place of union sailors.

The longshoremen in question then abandoned their work, leaving several trucks partially filled with the proscribed material.

At the Pacific Coast Company's bunkers, in the absence of union hoisting engineers, the crew of the ship Australian was unloading that vessel of coal. It was very slow and exceedingly tedious work.

The vessels Noyo, Laura Pike, Bella and North Fork loaded with lumber are still unable to discharge cargoes because of inability to secure union longshoremen.

All is quiet along the front.

SEPARATION IN DEATH.

The divorce case of Mrs. Katherine Schubert against Louis Schubert has been continued indefinitely owing to the death of the defendant. Inasmuch as death has intervened to secure to Mrs. Schubert the separation she was seeking through the courts, there remains now nothing but the property interests to be determined in the action.

SCHOOL BOYS OBJECT.

The Oakland High School students object to the Board of Education designating the three under-graduate classes as the ninth, tenth and eleventh grades. Principal Pond suggests that the names be changed to correspond to the Universty designations of freshman, sophmore, and junior.

TREE THAT FIXES SUEZ SANDS.

One of the problems which has given the management of the Suez canal much trouble is that of the sand that blows into it, adding to the dredging expenses. A considerable number of plants have been tried in the effort to fix the sands so that a comparatively small quantity would be blown into the canal. All of these plants have failed except one, which, it is now believed, will be quite effective in keeping the sand in place.

This large plant is the casuarina tree. It thrives in the Southern hemisphere, and grows well on the sand banks that skirt the Suez canal. It not only survives intense drought, but also excessive humidity, which is important, as the northern part of the canal is subject to inundations at some periods and droughts at other seasons of the year.

The roots of this tree penetrate the sand so deeply that they tap subterranean sources of water. Many of the trees planted twenty five years ago have thrived so well in their new habitat that they are now over forty feet in height. All who have studied the problem of sand fixation are certain that this tree will offer important resistance to the movement of sand along the canal. Steps are being taken to plant it extensively.—New York Sun.

Mrs. Frezee of Santa Rosa and Miss Mabel Bailey of this city are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson at Sebastopol.

COHN'S GREAT SALE!

WE wish to speak, dispassionately, of a few facts. We have a stock worth $15,000.

We must turn over the business on August 20—just 10 more week days—to the firm of A. S. Cohn & Co. (Inc.)

The new firm has ordered its own stock of fall goods and suitings, and wants all the shelves clear.

We are therefore selling our thoroughly up-to-date stock at less than half price.

Not one dollars' worth of goods has been bought for this sale—we are selling staples, even including new goods ordered before the change of firm was arranged for.

Now is the time to obtain high-grade suits and gents' furnishing goods at a fraction of their worth.

MASTERS NOW ASK FOR MEN,

Will Employ Painters Without Asking Them any Questions.

The president of the Master Painters, through an advertisement in local papers, called for fifty painters to whom he guaranteed employment at the rate of $3 for a day's labor of eight hours. No question was to be asked of the applicant as to whether he is a union or a non-union man.

The striking journeymen say they have sixty-five men to work and that they are bound to win.

DO FROGS RAIN DOWN?

If Not, Mr. Marley Would Like to Know Where His Came From.

The statement of W. George Marley, a member of the Towson bar, Maryland, that he had a large bullfrog which dropped from the clouds during a recent heavy rainstorm which passed over that place, has reopened the much-mooted question of the probability of such a phenomenon. A reporter of the Baltimore Sun interviewed several naturalists and could not find one who was willing to believe in such a thing. Dr. Philip R. Uhler, president of the Maryland Academy of Sciences, says that it is a common thing to see a paragraph in a newspaper telling of a shower of frogs, but that he has never believed in any of these reports. "Such talk," he said, "is nonsense, pure and simple."

Dr. Uhler advised the reporter to look into Harnwicke's Science Gossip, as he said something authoritative could likely be found there. In one of the volumes of this work for 1872 the following was found:

"'M. A. B.' will be extremely obliged to any one who will freely and fully explain how showers of frogs and fish are produced, if they are not absorbed or drawn up into the clouds by the intense heat of the sun's rays before descending to the earth in showers. An answer in the next number of Science Gossip will be eagerly looked forward to."

In another number of the same publication for 1872 the following article by H. E. Watney was found:

"I really thought until I read 'M. A. B.'s' inquiry in the January part of Science Gossip that showers of frogs, like showers of gold, were exploded myths. Doubtless the latter fable had its moral, and we occasionally see an elderly Zeus of modern times win a fair young Danae, but I do not believe the former either serves to point a moral or adorn a tale, unless it be a fairy one.

"I will, however, briefly relate to 'M. A. B.' what a very good naturalist friend of mine said to me in explanation of this very subject, apropos of a newspaper account of a 'shower of frogs.' Every female frog is capable of producing 1,000 young ones; these little froggies hide in crevices and under stones, waiting to come forth directly the first summer showers pour down. They appear in multitudes immediately genial rain falls, and some good folks ever since the days of Aristotle have been found to imagine that they drop from the clouds, or that they have been taken up from a marsh by a whirlwind and let fall."

But Mr. Whitney's view was not shared by Thomas Cooper, the author of "Purgatory of Suicides," who wrote of this subject as follows:

"The author recalls another natural phenomenon I witnessed when a boy. I saw a shower of live frogs. I record this because I have read, not only in that beautiful old book of Ray's, 'The Wisdom of God in Creation,' but in later books affecting great fidelity to facts in science, that such a sight is impossible. I am as sure of what I relate as I am of my own existence. The minute frogs, jumping alive, fell on the pavement at our feet, and came tumbling down the spouts from the tiles of the house into water tubs."

The quesion, therefore, seems to resolve itself into one where doctors disagree, and where people may have their own opinion, although the Sun would not advise any one to bet that there have been such things as showers of frogs.

HINTS TO FOOLISH MOTHERS

Some Caustic but Hopeful Remarks From the Emporia Gazette Stage.

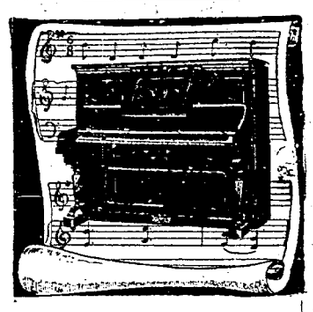

A girl of 16 passed the Gazette office this morning dressed to kill. She had on red silk filigree stockings, patent leather shoes, a $10 hat, a bustle of great price a tailor-made skirt, a tucked and frilled shirt waist and she carried a $7.50 parasol. Her hair was frizzed and frumped and bedecked, and she wore jewels and all manner of stuff that a 16-year-old-girl has no more business wearing than she has to go naked. One rig is about as vulgar and cheap and tawdry as the other. Of course this child, who is being rushed into womanhood by a fool mother, doesn't move in the best crowd of girls and boys of the town. She can't get in. Her father makes plenty of money, but her mother's fool notions of dress bars the child.

No sensible mother desires to see her boy or girl associate with a girl whose mind is filled with all the folly and vulgarity reflected in this child's dress. She might as well carry a banner reading "I am boy struck." And heaven knows sensible mothers fear a boy-struck girl worse than a pestilence. When she is ruined, as this foolish child will be, either by a fool marriage or without it, and one is as sad and hopeless as the other—her silly mother will be to blame for allowing the child to overdress. She has made the child a man-trap and she will reap the reward of men-traps.

Another girl passed down the street a few minutes after the first girl passed the office. Girl No. 2 is the daughter of a family that counts its wealth with six figures. She wore a simple gingham gown that she made herself, and a pair of plain $3 shoes. Her hair was done up neatly and simply as a girl's hair should be. There were no rings on her fingers and bells on her toes. She was a pretty, quietly dressed, sweet-faced, innocent schoolgirl, with her head full of the fine dreams and fancies that come to every girl. Her name is found in the list of those present at the entertainments given at the best homes in town.

Her mother is responsible for the child's graces. Her mother keeps her girlish and in doing so the mother retains her youth. She is one of the handsomest women in town. Her face reflects a clean heart. The girl doesn't hear malicious gossip in her home. She doesn't know everything on earth or in hell—which word is here used reverently, and she doesn't gad the streets. She is a good cook, a good housekeeper, and has the making of a woman as useful as her mother is.

It is all a matter of ideals in this old world. Often people think because a girl doesn't conquer the world, as she promised to in her high school essay, that she has forgotten all about it. But when a woman brings up a clean, wholesome family in this generation of vipers she has been reasonably true to herself and her aspirations, even if she doesn't strip the laurel tree for her millinery.

SAN LEANDRO'S FINE BRIDGE.

How the Great Concrete Culvert is Being Built in Country Town.

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 8.—The big eighty foot wooden arch over the San Leandro creek is now completely covered with concrete. Another layer is yet to be put on, which extends about 15 feet from the bottom. After this the keystone will be put in, at which point the arch will be only three feet in thickness. Above this will be a four foot earth cushion, upon which the sidewalk and parapet will be built. The length of the bridge and approaches is 190 feet.

Mr. Nusbaumer's design shows a handsome and substantial structure, ornamented with paneling and surmounted with a railing or parapet, which gives a finish to the whole. The parapet will be ornamented with several decorative street lamps.

The cost of the bridge when completed is estimated at about $25,500.

The concrete work on the arch will be completed in about a week, after which the retaining walls will be built up and the ends filled in with dirt, which was taken out when the work started.

MISS DUNBAR IS THROWN FROM HORSE.

Miss Gladys Dunbar, daughter of S. G. S. Dunbar, principal of the Durant School, was thrown from her horse yesterday afternoon and seriously injured. At the time of the accident Miss Dunbar was riding with her sister Sue. While passing the Fabiola Hospital the latter, who was considerably in advance, looked back and saw her sister lying on the ground. Although there were no eye witnesses to the accident, it is evident that she struck very heavily, as the bruised condition of her shoulders and head indicates that she must have been violently thrown from her saddle.

The unfortunate young lady was carried in an unconscious condition to the Fabiola Hospital for treatment. By permission of the attending physician, Dr. A. L. Cunningham, she was allowed later to be conveyed to her father's home on Hawthorne street. The injured girl is well known and popular both here and at Berkeley, where she has been attending the University for some time. She is better today.

NARROW ESCAPE OF LITTLE CHILD.

Nearly Killed While Crossing a Street in Town of Haywards.

HAYWARDS, Aug. 8.—Yesterday Ethel Williams, a little 5-year-old girl had a very narrow escape from being killed instantly.

About noon the man who trims the arc lights had just finished trimming the lamp on the corner of Castro and B streets, and had drawn it up to within a foot of the cross wire, when suddenly the rope which held the lamp broke and it fell to the ground with a crash. The little Williams girl was passing under the lamp just as it fell. It shot past the child and smashed into thousands of pieces not a foot from where she stood.

So close did it fall that bits of glass and sand were scattered over her feet. For a second the child could not move, she was so frightened. Several men seized her and it was found that she had sustained no injuries from the flying glass.

NOTED WOMAN GIVES A LECTURE.

Miss Hughes Pleads for Her Sex at the Unitarian Church.

One of the most significant lectures of the year, was given last evening at the Unitarian Church by Miss Elizabeth Phillips Hughes. Miss Hughes is a distinguished Englishwoman, and is principal of the Teachers' College in Cambridge. She was sent by the British government to Sweden to study the Lloyd systems there, and she is now on her way to Japan, sent there by King Edward to study educational conditions there.

By request Miss Hughes spoke on the subject, "Is Co-education Desirable?" She answered her question immediately in the affirmative, arguing along the following lines:

"It is not a subject for teachers, or churches, or schools, it is a subject for the citizens generally. I am arguing from the standpoint of one of the four hundred million citizens who owe allegiance to the Union Jack. It is not a woman' question;—there are no purely women questions. These are only question of human beings.

"Men will never go to any great depths of learning and leave women behind. Here in America, men are busy in money making, and women go in for higher education. Nevertheless there is no possibility of our ever getting very far ahead of the men. Of course, in the real sense co-education has not been tried. Colleges are designed by men for boys or men. We were not considered when the curriculum was planned. The table was spread, and we had to take what we could get.

"We had to eat their dinner, since we insist on eating at the same table. Among the reasons for co-education are the following:

"First—It helps men and women to understand each other very much better, and lays the foundation for satisfactory homes. The early years are not the most important, the most important in an impressionable way are the years from 12 to 20.

"Second—It gives a common memory.

"Third—Since there is a distinct difference in the mental characteristics of men and women the best results are possible only in a system of co-education.

"Fourth—It teaches students that they are to live in a world made up of men and women. They learn that success depends on their ability to adjust themselves to a human environment. They must get on rightly and wisely together.

"Fifth—It is cheaper. Education has come to be very expensive. We need magnificent buildings, expensive laboratories. We need to set a higher standard for education, and so we will need to pay our teachers more, since very few people are fit to be teachers at all."

Miss Hughes spoke of the difference in discipline between the English and American colleges. Discipline in its strictest sense is unknown among the American young people. The social life of the college should be of the highest type, but it should be well supervised by those whose care it ought to be that men and women should get the best out of college life. Those who fail to do this should be sent away.

Miss Hughes touched briefly on industrial conditions in England and America, showing the necessity for a re-adjustment of the world's work in a fair way, since so many of women's avocations had passed over to men — as for instance, dressmaking, breadmaking, weaving, and cooking.

Miss Hughes was very frank in her presentation of American conditions. After six years she returns to America to find that while we have made progress in some ways, we have gone backwards in others. Miss Hughes finds the latter to be true in the matter of co-education,—finding the conditions very discouraging in Harvard and the University of Chicago, typical American universities.

There are discouraging elements also in our State University.

Miss Hughes characterized Mrs. Stanford's act limiting the number of women students at Stanford, as one of the most dangerous acts of the century, in its capacity for affecting the future of women.

She referred to Professor Münsterberg's scathing article against women, not so much because a German wrote it, was because it came from Harvard University.

Referring to German standards Miss Hughes once asked a distinguished man as to the standing of women in Germany and the answer was: "Ach, Mein Gott! She does not count."

Referring to the American backward movement, Miss Hughes said: "Our municipal conditions are bad enough, but they are not so bad as yours."

The speaker said America has been regarded as the paradise for women. English women are hampered by traditions. They have looked across the water, expecting the American women from her freer environment to lead the way. But she has failed to do so.

Miss Hughes leaves for Japan next Saturday.
